SPOONER A WINNER.

His Ideas Accepted by Conferees.

Canal Bill is Reported to Both Houses.

Should Be Signed Within the Next Five Days.

*Sundry Civil Bill Items Canceled—Nominations Sent

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:

WASHINGTON, June 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was settled today, beyond all doubt, that the Isthmian Canal Bill will pass Congress, and that the great work will be commenced as soon as the necessary preliminary details can be arranged, in accordance with the bill, by the President and the State Department. This happy and unexpectedly early result came in the conference committee, where the House conference had broken down from the insistence of the Nicargua route, and agreed to report to the House in favor of the Spooner amendment, providing for construction by the Panama route, if time can be obtained.

It has been arranged, also, that the House will accept this report and pass the Spooner bill just as it passed the Senate, without amendment and with practically no debate, so within the next five days this great bill which has been pending in Congress in one form or another for fifty years, will be laid before the President for his signature.

FINAL CONFERENCE BRIEF.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The conference on the Isthmian Canal Bill reached a complete and unanimous agreement at 2:35 o'clock this afternoon in favor of accepting the Senate amendment, which contemplates the building of the Panama Canal, if the President can secure a clear title to that route. The final conference lasted only half an hour.

Before the decision was reached Mr. Hepburn of Iowa, on behalf of the House conferees, endeavored in vain to secure a modification of the Senate amendment limiting the President to six months within which the title to the Panama route is to be perfected.

Mr. Hepburn made the following statement to the House: "The action of the conferees, if approved by the House, will be to eliminate all of the provisions of the bill as passed by the public and enact into legislation all of the provisions of the Senate amendment." Mr. Hepburn will call up the bill for final action tomorrow.

BEFORE THE FINISH.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Senator Morgan has made known to the members of the Alabama delegation in Congress that it is advisable to accept the Spooner amendment to the canal bill. This, from the Senator foremost in behalf of the Nicargua route, is considered as conclusive as showing that the Senate amendments will be agreed to.

THAT STATEHOOD BILL.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—By an arrangement effected today by the divergent interests in the Senate Committee on Territories and subsequently ratified by the Senate, a Territorial Statehood Bill will be reported to and considered by the Senate early in December when Congress reconvenes. In the meantime the Senate will agree to the principal reason for opposing Senator Quay's motion for the Omnibus Statehood Bill was for the purpose of preventing the bill going on the calendar in an amended form.

Some of the Republican members of the committee are inclined to favor the admission of one or two of the Territories, but not all three of them, and therefore, therefore, to amend the measure in committee. This they will have an opportunity to attempt.

Senator Bate said the Democrats accepted the programme only because it had become apparent that action could not be secured at the present session. He said the Democratic side of the Senate was solid in its support of the bill for the admission of all three of the Territories, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona.

The Republican members say it does not follow from Senator's agreement that the Omnibus Statehood Bill will become the unfinished business of December 10 next. They make the point that the agreement provides for a report by the Committee on Territories to precede the consideration of the bill, and that whatever bill may be reported will become the unfinished business. That may or may not be an omnibus bill, and it is evident that the present desire of the majority of the committee is that it should be added that any bill reported from the Committee on Territories will be open to amendment in the Senate.

FIFTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.
REGULAR SESSION.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—SEN-
ATE.—The chaplain in his prayer at the opening of the Senate session today, invoked "blessings upon our sister nation, England, which holds, with us, the sacred trust of Christian progress. We remember her tears and prayers for us when our great ruler fell. And now we have Christian sympathy and brotherly concern in this, her hour of sorrow. Bless her King, and give him a happy issue out of his present sickness."

Pending the transaction of further business, Mr. Quay of Pennsylvania made a statement concerning his motion to discharge the Committee on Territories from consideration of the Statehood Bill. He had said yesterday that he would not bring his bill to the floor at this session of the Senate unless this motion was disposed of. He did not want that statement to be misconstrued. He and other Senators who voted with him desired nothing better than a day in court. He hoped that the bill would be reported either favorably or negatively, and he appealed to Mr. Beveridge, chairman of the Committee on Territories, to ascertain what might expect from the committee. Mr. Beveridge replied that if that was Mr. Quay's position, he was prepared to say that the committee would report the Statehood Bill on the third day of the next session.

Mr. Quay said that was perfectly satisfactory to him and to the Republicans, at least, of the Committee on Territories. He then turned to the consideration of the matter. Mr. Quay secured unanimous consent that on the 10th of next December, the Statehood Bill should be made the unfinished business, and it be continued as such until disposed of.

Mr. Bate of Tennessee, a member of the Committee on Territories, said Mr. Quay's position was entirely satisfactory to the minority in the committee. The amendment made by Mr. Quay withdrew his motion to discharge the Committee on Territories from further consideration of the Statehood Bill.

REPORTS AND BILLS.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The conference report on the Sundry Civil Bill was agreed to. The bill will now go to the President.

The bill to prevent the adulteration, misbranding and imitation of foods, beverages, candies and drugs and condiments in the District of Columbia and the Territories, and for regulating interstate trade, was laid before the Senate, and Mr. McCumber of North Dakota spoke in favor of the measure.

While Mr. McCumber was speaking, Mr. Proctor of Vermont, who called up a message from the House in respect to the Army Appropriation Bill, was welcomed by the Senate.

After fifteen of the fifty pages of the bill were completed, Mr. Hepburn of Iowa presented the conference report on the Isthmian Canal Bill, and the bill was referred to the Committee on Territories.

At 4 o'clock the House took a recess until 8 o'clock. There were no speakers at the night session, and immediately after reassembling at 8:05 p.m. the House adjourned until tomorrow. Illinois. It was defeated by 62 to 56. The bill then was sent back to committee.

Consideration of the Philippine Civil Government Bill was resumed, and then was read for amendment under the five-minute rule. On motion of Mr. Estelle of Georgia, an amendment was adopted to the effect that the bill was to be referred to the appropriate committee from the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, in all cases involving the construction of the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. Hill of Connecticut offered an amendment to the provision for a legislative assembly in the islands, to the effect that this provision should not be in effect until the population of the islands did not show 5 per cent. of the population to be qualified voters.

Mr. Coopers, chairman of the Insular Committee, vigorously opposed the amendment.

He quoted from Taft as saying that it would be a calamity unless a legislative assembly were provided in the Civil Government Bill.

"The gentlemen profess to be in favor of a civil government," said he, "but they propose actually to continue an arbitrary military government in power."

Mr. Hill's amendment was defeated.

On motion of Mr. Littlefield of Maine, an amendment was adopted to prohibit one corporation from owning stock in another corporation.

After fifteen of the fifty pages of the bill were completed, Mr. Hepburn of Iowa presented the conference report on the Isthmian Canal Bill, and the bill was referred to the Committee on Territories.

KING'S CONDITION AT DIFFERENT HOURS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, June 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The first bulletin issued by the attending physicians, at 10 o'clock this morning, was as follows:

"His Majesty was very restless, and had no sleep during the early part of the night. He obtained some sleep, however, after 1 o'clock this morning; is free from pain, and no untoward symptoms presented themselves. Considering all conditions, His Majesty may be said to be progressing satisfactorily."

WHAT PHYSICIANS FEAR.

PERITONITIS OR HEMORRHAGE. BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.] LONDON, June 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] At 8:35 o'clock, Sir Francis Knollys, a representative of the Associated Press that no particular change had occurred, but that the King was maintaining the improvement in his condition.

The following statement was made afternoon on the highest medical authority:

"Until the tubes now draining the body have been withdrawn, it will be impossible to tell certainly what the King will pull through. What his physicians fear most is that peritonitis or hemorrhage may supervene. There must always be these dangers in such cases. Again, it is a fact that any abscess due to peritonitis may have a fatal issue without any warning symptoms. All the indications are often masked until the post-mortem, and there are many cases on record where disease was only discovered after death from an extraneous cause, such as an extreme. At any rate, the King's grave illness must invalidate him for a long time."

THE NIGHT BULLETIN.

PROGRESS IS SATISFACTORY. BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, June 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The following bulletin was posted at Buckingham Palace at 10:32 o'clock:

"The King continues to make satisfactory progress."

HOPEFULNESS AT MIDNIGHT.

BASED ON PRIOR BULLETINS. BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, June 25, midnight.—[By Atlantic Cable.] King Edward's condition tonight is even more satisfactory than has been indicated by the last bulletin. He has had a decided improvement, and the physicians at Buckingham Palace are very hopeful.

His Majesty is able to take nourishment. He had scrambled eggs and a little hock and soda this afternoon, and with his own hands he opened several glasses.

The bulletin issued at 11 o'clock tonight is regarded as intensely satisfactory. This bulletin is generally taken as being the first occasion on which the King's physicians have allowed themselves to express even a small degree the hopeful feelings of uncertainty.

Thirty-six hours have now elapsed since the operation was performed, and the absence of complications, although it has been frequently in these operations, several days must pass before the possibility of danger can be eliminated.

COLORING OF BULLETTINS.

NEWSPAPER MAN'S DISCOVERY. BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, June 25, 1 a.m.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is believed that the King's physicians are coloring the bulletins favorably. It is believed at this hour, and the authority comes from an excellent source, that the King's condition is critical. The condition of King Edward gives to the household physicians and attendant physicians at Buckingham Palace no reason for hope for his recovery that he had yesterday.

The bulletin issued by them must be read between the lines. At first conclude his sentence. There was an anticipatory and big outburst of cheers from all parts of the House.

"Mr. Balfour's statement occupied but a few moments, and it was followed by a short speech from Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the leader of the opposition, and the whole scene was over. It took but a few moments, and but for the general air of the House to which we have alluded, the scene was not impressive.

"The House then went on with the discussion of the Educational Bill in its many details; somberly but regularly and prosaically, as if nothing had happened. But there was a certain lifelessness in it all which was unusual when something tragic is in the air. The real life of the House was in the lobbies, and not on the floor. The members gathered in groups, and King Edward, with the other members of the opposition, was the only one of the opposition. There was nothing but regret and sympathy; the tragic elements of the case broke down all barriers, and men only thought of the suffering fellow who struck down at the moment when, if he had lived, the cruel fate ought to have been stayed.

"The excitement was brought to a climax when a report spread like wild fire that the King was sinking, and this was soon followed by a report that His Majesty had passed away. A shiver, as if the Angel of Death, then passed over everybody, and the members of the House rushed hither and thither, and the characteristic quiet and apparent want of emotion which Englishmen so rarely lose.

"The place to go at the moment for the latest information was the House of Lords. The latest report of Sir Edward's death came at 4:20 o'clock, and at 4:30 the House of Lords began its sitting. There was an unusually full attendance, and so many ladies dressed in white, admiring the dead, as to be remonstrated with by the attendants, and the poor things were rather hustled. The peers had to begin like the commons, with some consultation, but the lords, who were in dudgeon about some documents and other trivialities, but this did not last long. Lord Spencer is now the leader of the Liberal party in the House of Lords, and King Edward is dead and Lord Rosebery has retired.

"Today when Lord Spencer arose he was pallid and evidently unnerved. He asked the question with just a smile and half a smile, "What is the term of office of Englishmen?" Lord Salisbury was more lengthy. Indeed, to tell the truth, he appeared to many as if he were actually looking around for words, and his usual felicity of language had deserted him. "It was not a very impressive scene, but was thought to be rather more striking than the scene in the House of Commons, which comes on the little ironies of life."

COAST RECORD.

MISSING STEAMSHIPS.

No News of Them from the North.

Ohio Brings Treasure from Nome City.

Held for Murder—Christian Endeavors—Pima Indians Have Rations.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.I. SEATTLE (Wash.) June 25.—The second arrival of the season from Nome, the steamship Ohio, came into port at an early hour this morning. She had thirty-two passengers, $150,000 in treasure and news from Nome up to June 15, the date she left the port. She also brought news of the first steamer arrival down the Yukon at St. Michael, the Sarah, reaching that point with $1,000,000 in treasure aboard, which will be shipped out on the steamer St. Paul. The Ohio reports all the fleet, with the exception of the Portland and Jessie, having reached that port.

When the Ohio left Nome on June 15 the Portland had been lost right off the coast, and the Jessie and Jessie about the same length of time. The Portland was last reported by the Nome City when the latter sighted her in the ice pack off Cape Prince of Wales. The Jessie was seen about the same time by the steamer Elk near Unalaska Island.

The United States steamer Thesis has been lost over a week when the Ohio sailed in search of the two craft, and the steamer Dora was dispatched from Nome to assist in the search two days before the Ohio sailed from that harbor.

There is some fear at Nome that the Jessie may be lost. So far as the owners of the Ohio were able to report, the Jessie had not been sighted since the steamer had gone on June 15. She apparently did not stop at Dutch Harbor on the way north, but put through Unalaska Pass and steered straight for Nome. From the experience of the steamer Thesis it is probable that she encountered the ice in formidable array a few miles north of the pass. It is also possible that, like the Portland, she became blocked in the ice, and is drifting helplessly northward.

LOSS OF MAIL CARRYING.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.I. NOME, June 16.—(Wired from Seattle, June 25.) Eighteen days on dog meat is the experience of J. H. Sprague, who brought in on the steamer Dora, Thursday morning, 400 pounds of mail by the notorious Illinois route.

Sprague left Iliaima Bay on March 1, with the mail consignment and experienced hardships from which few men survive. Yet he says he did not mind it. When Sprague left, however, he weighed 180 pounds; when he weighed himself again at Land's trading post he tipped the beam at 115 pounds.

For fourteen days previous to taking to dog meat he and a man named McInnis, the sub-mail contractor, had lived on rotten fish. They could obtain no supplies, heavy storms on the trans-Alaska trail having cut them from reaching any point where food could be obtained. Finally, they were found by E. C. Hill of the Trans-Alaska Company, and F. Carlson Hill made a trip of fifty miles and return, and carried some beans, bacon and flour for the starving men, and they were saved.

Sprague accompanied the mail through to the Yukon, and from thence to St. Michael and Nome.

FUNDS FOR PIMA INDIANS.

THEIR WANTS RELIEVED.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.I. PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 25.—Elwood Hadley, agent of the Pima Indians of late reported to be starving, is here, and says he has received $1500 from the department for immediate use in buying provisions. He says no Indians have starved, but many have been short of rations, and owing to no irrigation water could do nothing for themselves. A portion of the money fund allotted the same day he issued the last rations, making close, but ample connection.

He says the prospects of the Pimas were never so bright, and the new money made for expenditure of $40,000 in their behalf, a greater part of which will be in running new ditches for irrigation water, the supply to be furnished by the construction of the San Carlos dam, assured by the passage of the irrigation bill. He predicts that in a year or two the Indians will be self-supporting.

Engineers will soon be in the field running ditch lines.

FRESH FRUITS.

SHIPPED TO THE EAST.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.I. SACRAMENTO, June 25.—The California Fruit Distributors, an organization which recently opened offices in this city under the management of Alden Anderson of Suisun, had shipped up to the 23d inst. 447 carloads of fresh fruits to the eastern market. The total shipments for the corresponding period last year were 812.

Alden Anderson said the disparity in the figures mentioned is due to the fact that the present is one of the most backward seasons in the history of the State. Cherries from the San Jose district, and early peaches, prunes, and peaches are now going forward, and it is expected that within a week the fruit-shipping season will be fairly under way.

CHRISTIAN SOLDIERS.

GATHERED AT SANTA CRUZ.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.I. SANTA CRUZ, June 25.—Every train today has brought Christian Endeavor. Tonight a special train arrived with about five hundred from San Francisco, Alameda and Santa Clara. It is considered the largest gathering ever held at a State convention of Endeavorers.

San Diego is gaining in strength as the place for the next convention. Its nearest rival is Santa Rosa. Today San Diego distributed hundreds of badges on which were holes of sand and a little selective expression, meaning that the sand was emblematic of grit.

Tonight the armory was crowded. The programme included a piano service and musical selections. Mayor C. C. Clark delivered an address well-welcomed in behalf of the city. C. S. Price spoke for the county, and Rev. J. R. Knodell welcomed the delegates for the church. Miss Myrtle Herd spoke for

TWO KNOCKOUTS FOR "SCRIPPERS."

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The California "scippers," who have dragnets out in every direction here, got two knockout blows today. One was in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, which handed down a decision in the case where the "scippers" ask for a writ of mandamus against Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock to compel him to approve their scrip selections upon mineral lands. In that case, which was argued before the court about three weeks ago, it was decided that the court has no authority to interfere with Secretary Hitchcock in this matter, and application for a writ of mandamus is accordingly denied. Not to be discouraged by this decision, however, the attorneys for the "scippers" have given notice that they will take an appeal from the decision of this court to the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, where they hope for a different decision.

The other setback that the "scippers" got was in the Senate Judiciary Committee, which decided today to take no action upon the "gobble bill" that has been put through the House without a "peep" from anybody, and that the "scippers" are trying to put through the Senate before the close of this session.

Senator Platt of Connecticut was appealed to this morning by Senators Bard and Perkins to see that the bill was kept in committee until after the adjournment of Congress, and he agreed to that course. It is unlikely that the "scippers" will ever be able to get this "gobble bill" out of the Senate Judiciary Committee, anyway. If it were before some other Senate committee, they might succeed, but in this committee they have such sturdy men as Hoar, Platt and Pettus to handle, and they are Senators who know why any bill is reported and what it means before they will consent to having it reported.

RULING OF THE COURT.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.I.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Justice Claborough of the District Supreme Court today overruled the demurrers filed by the Riverside Oil Company and the Cosmos Exploration Company of California to the answer made by the Secretary of the Interior to the mandamus proceedings they instituted to compel issuance of a patent to them for valuable oil lands near Los Angeles. The demurrers alleged that the government's answers were insufficient to support its action. The court held that the matter was discretionary with the department, and that the Secretary could not be compelled by mandamus to issue patents for lands.

ALFONSO GETTING GAY.

Young King of Spain Thinks it Necessary to Insult His Mother in Order to Assert Himself.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

MANCHESTER, June 25.—A police Dispatcher, Young King Alfonso is making rapid progress since he cut loose from his mother's authority, and his quarrels with the Dowager Queen have become so severe and frequent as to create considerable trouble. She will no longer brook reproof, and his mother's slightest attempt to advise or guide the young King is productive of a tirade of profanity.

A few days ago, the presence of servants in the palace humiliated his parent by threatening to have her turned out of the palace if she did not cease to interfere with his wishes.

The young King's manner and bearing have become almost insufferable since his coronation.

HOW THE TIMES TREATS LABOR.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES pays to its skilled workmen wages that average from $3.75 to $4.50 per day for time work, and from $4 to $5.50 per day for piece work. These rates are higher than are paid by any competing newspaper. The Times pays larger sums weekly, monthly and yearly for labor than any journal in all the Southwest. Its cash disbursements on this account between August, 1899, and the end of September, 1901, aggregated $1,000,000, and its annual expenditures for labor of all classes, both skilled and unskilled, now average more than $75,000 per year. There never has been any attempt, in any quarter, to deny these specific and telling facts, and the proprietors challenge such denial if made. The Times has a more skillful, reliable and satisfactory force of workmen than any rival newspaper establishment; and not for years has it had any trouble with its workmen, who are independent of unions, loyal to their employers and to themselves, well satisfied and prosperous. The Times controls its own business in its own way, subject only to the laws of the land; and no interference with that control can be lawfully or justly made. The result of its fixed policy has proven highly beneficial to all concerned, and the justness and correctness of its course have for years past received public approval in most marked and conspicuous ways, the circulation and advertising patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstripping that of all local rivals.

BUSINESS.

The clearances sent by the local banks yesterday amounted to $1,000,740.75, which was about a full average for certificate day, which comes on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. For the corresponding day last year the clearances amounted to $730,690.75, which was a large average for that time. Business generally is in a prosperous condition.

Liberal selling of wheat was indulged in at Chicago, July and September options both selling freely. Little was done in stocks in Wall street. The local money market there was firmer.

THE RECRUDESCENCE OF BRYAN.

Certain recent remarks of ex-President Cleveland seem to have hit ex-Candidate Bryan pretty hard, if one may judge by the fluttering of the game. The Nebraska statesman has evidently lost his head, in his excess of wrath, for he scolds like a veritable fish-wife, and uses language which can be termed parliamentary only by a stretch of courtesy. While evidently laying much stress upon party harmony, Mr. Bryan clearly demonstrates, by his rash and intemperate comments upon Mr. Cleveland's recent speech at the so-called "harmony dinner" in New York, that there can be no such thing as harmony between the Cleveland brand of Democracy and the Bryan brand of Populism. The traditional antipathy between the lion and the unicorn is white-winged peace and tender brotherly love in comparison to the "feelings" subsisting between these relics of a bygone era.

The plain state of affairs is that ex-President Cleveland is a Democrat in the true and proper acceptance of the word, while ex-Candidate Bryan is in all essential respects a Populist. His training, his teaching, his modes of thought, are intensely and altogether Populistic. His several years' masquerade as a Democrat has not in any important particular made him less a Populist nor more a Democrat. His attempt to lead the Democratic party in the paths of Populism resulted only in leading the party astray, and scattering it in the wilderness of defeat. Having led the forlorn hope of Populism, thinly disguised as Democracy, to two successive defeats—the most signal and disastrous defeats ever suffered by a political party within the history of the country—Mr. Bryan ought, it would seem, to be content to stand aside (if he is sincerely interested in the success of the party to which he professes allegiance) and permit other and more experienced leaders to repair. If possible, the damages which have been wrought by the two ignominious routs under his leadership.

Mr. Bryan shows exceedingly bad taste in attacking ex-President Cleveland with so much bitterness and venom. In thus doing, he makes patent the fact—which has all along been more than suspected—that a personal triumph or vindication would be esteemed by him of infinitely more value than the triumph of safe and right principles in affairs of government. He seems to regard the questions discussed by Mr. Cleveland rather in the light of personal issues between himself and the ex-President, than as abstract questions of party policy, as they should be regarded. In this view of the case Mr. Bryan betrays at once his narrowness, his egotism, and his supreme selfishness.

In striking contrast to Mr. Bryan's hot-headed, ungenerous, and somewhat short-tempered nature, and should be pushed along.

BURROWING UNDER THE CAPITOL.

The news and comments that have appeared in The Times regarding the bold attempt now being made in Washington by the "scripters" to over-ride the decisions thrice rendered against them by three distinct branches of the Department of the Interior—an attempt which appears to have been almost entirely overlooked by the press of the State—have evidently stirred up many readers of this paper to action, as our special correspondent in Washington reports that many telegrams have been received at the capital protesting against the passage of the bill which the scripters have succeeded in forcing through the House, and are now attempting to push through the Senate, a bill which would give them the privilege of reopening their case before the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, and thus force those whose property would be in jeopardy to make a journey to Washington, or to send representatives there in defense of their rights.

We have already commented at some length upon the monstrous nature of the attempt which these greedy and grasping men are making to upset the regular laws of the country, in order to obtain property which they covet. It is not necessary to go into further details on this subject, but some of the later developments, referred to by Dr. Koch, appears to be strongly supported by the results of Prof. Behring's researches. The latter finds that the disease-bearing germ is changed in passing from the blood of cattle to that of man, or vice versa—which fact, if it be a fact, goes far toward furnishing an explanation of the differing opinions of bacteriologists on this subject. Prof. Behring states that he has been able to inoculate very young cattle, and that from them he has obtained a noiseless firecracker and a bursting bomb as one or two of the long-felt wants. Can't we have 'em for a change?

The fuses of Nebraska seem to be getting together at this writing, but there is little doubt that the Republican stalwarts of that State will be able to hold the combination for a while, same as before.

The high standing of Prof. Behring as a bacteriologist and scientist lends special importance to his announcement. His discovery of the diphtheria serum was a great step forward, and a great boon to the human race. If his hopes as to the tuberculosis serum prove to be well founded, his name will take its place forever among the world's immortals. It is well, however, to suspend judgment until the value of Prof. Behring's discovery shall have been fully demonstrated. There have been so many failures in this field that nothing short of an absolute demonstration is to be accepted as a success.

The forest-fire and shirt-waist season is surely upon us, and both are in evidence with a very general prevalence for the latter strongly in evidence, particularly when dressed with silk. Take a shirt waist of the right material and proper colors, and let it surround an American girl and you have a combination of person and personal property that is up to the demands of the market every day in the week, including Sundays and holidays. As for the forest fire, it is warm, to be sure, but that kind of heat is not appreciated by the connoisseur of calorics. We can worry away without fear, for the shirt waist is a natural life, but the girl shirt waist warmer can never be too plenty among those human beings who are normally constituted. Here's to the summer girl, the girl along in the fall and late in the winter; may she never mount shirt waist, nor lack of appreciation.

Take a shirt waist of the right material and proper colors, and let it surround an American girl and you have a combination of person and personal property that is up to the demands of the market every day in the week, including Sundays and holidays. As for the forest fire, it is warm, to be sure, but that kind of heat is not appreciated by the connoisseur of calorics. We can worry away without fear, for the shirt waist is a natural life, but the girl shirt waist warmer can never be too plenty among those human beings who are normally constituted. Here's to the summer girl, the girl along in the fall and late in the winter; may she never mount shirt waist, nor lack of appreciation.

BY FIRE

Heaps of Debris

Lost Their HomesFlames Spread So Rapidly
That Practically Nothing
Was Saved.BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS
SALT LAKE (Utah) June 26.—The great cyanide gold camp, the second largest mining town in Utah, was practically wiped out by fire today.

The origin of the fire remains a mystery, but it is believed to be an explosion of some kind above the Preble Block, in which the Oquirrh Hotel and mines were located. A short time after the fire began, the telephone exchange was destroyed, and all wire communication cut.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon a courier rode into Fairfield, a town on the Tintic branch of the Short Line Railway, and telegraphed that Mercury had been wiped off the map so far as business districts have been completely destroyed, and there is not a single store in the camp. The people are in a state of panic, without food and shelter. Wells and Mayor Thompson of Salt Lake were appealed to for assistance. Fully as poor, but more destitute, business houses remain, and upon scores of dwellings have completely destroyed.

Shortly after the fire broke out, it was realized that the entire town was in danger, and immediately the greatest confusion prevailed. All property of every description proved invaluable, and every man made to save his house and stores, but so rapidly did the fire spread that the people were forced to flee for their lives, and nothing was left behind.

The excitement was increased by the constant explosions of gunpowder stored in various portions of the town, known, however, to have resulted.

A conservative estimate shows a total loss at between $100,000 and $60,000, and the insurance is about $100,000.

Among the buildings destroyed is the large structure of the Union Bank Company, the Palmer House, Catholic and Baptist church and telephone exchange.

The Methodist and Methodist women's organizations, which were well organized and have been converted into places of refuge for most helpless and destitute women and children.

Gov. Wells, Mr. L. C. Thompson, Lt. Col. George Short, State engineer, number of prominent Salt Lake men late this afternoon arranged a special train with which they left Salt Lake City yesterday morning for the ruined town.

Mercury is the western terminus of Salt Lake and Mercury Railroad, situated fifty-eight miles south of Salt Lake City. In 1880 it was abandoned and remained in a state of extracting gold from low-grade veins until the cyanide process was given to the world.

In 1881 it became a lively camp, and finally incorporated in 1884. It became the home of the noted Mormon Golden Gate mines. The town enjoyed the reputation of being the moral and quiet mining camp of the continent. It had a good school and a number of churches.

The census of 1890 fixed its population at 2500.

LAMENTATIONS
ARE TOO PREVIOUS.MILLAND SETS PUBLIC FEARS
AT REST.Meters Will Not Bankrupt Laws and Supply is Sufficient for Legitimate Needs—Development and Conservation.

A million population. The city has a magnificent watershed, which is capable of great further development. But this is expensive and there is no reason why a small quantity of waste great quantities, just because man can be had by the expenditure of millions.

"The waste of water is enormous, and it is my first duty to the people to make them understand what we have.

Before spending fabulous sums in developing more water, I have undertaken to conserve that which does not cost a cent.

Now, between the hours of eight and nine o'clock at night, when all good people are supposed to be abed, water is flowing out of the reservoirs at the rate of 450,000 gallons an hour. This is a common sight and causes me to let the water run over the lawns all night. Now, that is wastefulness; it does no good, either seeping into the ground or running off into the sewers. Some people say that that is a waste of swamp water, but it isn't. I water my lawn about once a week, and have green grass as there is in the city. Another big loss is the waste of water in irrigation.

"Now, if this meter was clicking, it would stop this waste to a great extent. It would make each consumer pay just according to what he gets for water, and maintenance of the water system. The meter rate would not be high, and in no sense prohibitory of fine grounds for the humblest, but it would put an assessment on all property, and an obligation for the people not to throw away the water it costs so much to produce.

Experience is the best teacher, and in this city we have been tried, and have proved most satisfactory.

In no case would the people favor returning to the old system. Pasadena is now universally metered, and it is a good example.

Water companies here have already been taken over a quarter of a million dollars in gold.

DIES ON HIS WAGON.

Driver of Street-sweeper Attacked by Fatal Illness While at Work on Main Street.

George Landis, in the employ of Franklin & Alexander, street-sweeping contractors, and who drove one of the street-sweeping machines at night, died suddenly on the seat of his machine at 12:15 o'clock this morning near Fifth and Main streets. He had been at work since dark, and no one knew that he was ill. As he drove past a tamale stand at Fifth and Main streets he noticed that he was leaning over the side of his machine. C. L. Parker, foreman of the street sweepers, was told that Landis was asleep, and, catching up with the machine half a block south of Fifth, he called to Landis. He received no response, for Landis had fallen into Booth & Boylston's undertaking establishment by order of the Coroner. It is supposed that death was the result of an attack of heart disease.

Landis was about 28 years of age, married, with a home at the San Pedro House, Third and San Pedro streets. He came here several months ago from Sacramento, where he had relatives.

HACKMAN STABBED.

Because of a real or imagined insult, an aged newspaper vendor named White, who is a familiar figure at First and Spring streets, stabbed Frank Carson, a driver in the employ of the Guyette Cab Company, at night near Second and Spring streets. Carson and the old man came up to him and used his knife without a word, but White's statement is that he was grossly insulted by the hackman. The knife is in the region of the stomach, but the blade of White's pocket knife did not penetrate the abdominal cavity. White was not arrested, because the police know where to find him if they want him.

Henry Guyot, charged with having cut into 100 acres and will be tried on government land near Lake Pleasant. The land was formerly part of an Indian reservation, but is now in dispute an ownership. The complainant is Rob ert Alford. Kuhler appeared before Commissioner Knobles, and his bond was fixed at $500 for his appearance.

Dr. W. A. Lamb spoke strongly on the necessity of a full and free discharge of all offenders that might arise, and said, in part: "It is good to be in this gathering of representative Republicans, because when American citizens meet this way, they always have a desire to have a discussion and debate some question. We are entering upon a campaign which, so far as the people are concerned, has for its object the election to office of able and honest men."

"We will have to fight hard to gain this end, but the greatest opposition will not come from the Democracy. We cannot overlook them, of course, but we must work harder, even more closely than we do them, and see to it that the party that is in power and enjoys the confidence of the people does not abuse that confidence by carelessness and bad judgment in the selection of its representatives."

Gen. H. A. Pierce espoused enthusiasm for an able exposition of Republican principles, and a plea for stronger and cleaner Republican organization. Other speakers were Col. P. H. Hill, Lt. Col. W. C. Third, Mr. Walker, and still a few more, who are prominent Republicans of Chicago, and E. H. Hutchinson.

Permanent organization will be effected at the first regular meeting, when the club will meet in the same hall for that purpose. A Committee on Permanent Organization, consisting of W. L. Valentine, L. E. Elliott, C. C. Moore, H. H. Spreckels, and H. H. Atkinson, was appointed to nominate the officers for the club, and to select one person from each precinct in the district who shall represent the club in that precinct.

Bringing up Children in the Right Way

BOUT three weeks ago my little daughter was some other place when her head was not clear when she was at a private kindergarten, very elusive—nevertheless, I find her head is a short time ago when she thought was a draft, which is all over again. She has a lot of vermin-larvae. She has long, thick hair, I have never done what I know how. I am most tired of anything I can put on her, as well it has to be cut off, but most sick over it. I hope you will feel angry with me for asking you to help me.

"ANXIOUS ONE." My little girl is going to school in her hair, and I have got them, but there are lots of 'st's' in her hair. I have washed her head repeatedly with tar soap, etc., but still the same, and I have had to shave the child has hair surfeits, and has been to the doctor, but he can't cure it. A.L."

These letters are specimens of a mass of complaints of which I am daily except it is impossible to prevent most of the very mention of housework. Children do not go to public schools? If I run the risk of sending nice tastes by putting down a black and white, the risks being healthy, ill-mannered children in the home, the education is the last. It is because the infection is a symptom and so revolting. Here is no room for a woman's organization that shall exist upon the allotment to each child, that heads are looked after as strict as a garrison is enforced.

To the mothers, I recommend for present distress the weekly use of bowls of mutton soap. Should they not be able to rub the lathe in to taste, it alone for an hour, washing it out with pure water, and wipe the hair dry and wet, when mixture of larkspur. Larkspur is a skin poison if taken internally, but here as a wash.

Work of School Girls

A few days ago I noticed in you under a letter from a girl who cooks two meals on school days, three meals on other days. As she goes to school, I seem to see where she goes to do this.

I am in the eighth grade, when I come from school I practice at home an hour and a half, then go to supper. After supper I study till 10 to bed. I just have time to make my bed, my breakfast, practice a few minutes, and go to school. It seems rather sudden to me that she, going to school, so much time to do housework.

"SCHOOLGIRL."

The girls of our country are going in for outdoor athletics as never before. They are golfing and playing tennis and practicing the gymnasium, and we ought to see the fine rate of women in the future that we have had in the past. But is there to be nothing else? Those who must stay at home have no schoolroom, and often, than the training of cooking classes and cooking of little value. And the school is of little value, with the drill room, kitchen under the roof, practical kitchenette.

The very necessity of exercise for these honest, when lessons in music, and music practicing, and wholesome discipline. The girl who was born in Europe did not go to America until she was 15 years old, at least. Arabic are fluent, and he heard it spoken all day, and she has told us nothing about school and college girls when they in turn become mothers, and mothers, but to slip into society and individualism? If they have their own gymnasium, and they hold of athletes within their own grounds, dress, suitable exercises, free from mat, mat, mat, and the like, they can find further scope in the work of the house than is covered by standing and sitting.

MAKING WORK HARD.

Many seem to cherish the idea that there is no merit in work, or that it is beneath the dignity of a good woman to be occupied with housework. There is a want of appreciation in the mind of the spectators through which she views the world. Better still than sitting, let her lay aside everything for fifteen or even ten minutes, and lie down a moment, and then get up again, and, if she can, away from every human being. Depend upon it, it will pay!

The advocates of housework as a means of physical culture is by no means all work. If anyone is skeptical on the matter, let her turn to the account of any athlete who is in training. He does his full duty, hard work all day, but quite as much when he is standing too long, and the fatigued muscles have their effect upon the spirit. It is at such times that she can prove the truth in the saying that change of labor, rest, relaxation will turn the tot that keeps her on her feet and go at something that will keep her seated for a while it is astonishing what difference it makes.

AVOID EXHAUSTION.

External vigilance is the price of bodily no less than spiritual grace. The weary woman finds it fatally easy to "pop." She gets to the point very often when she feels that there is nothing new and nothing true, and it does not much matter whether she has been standing too long, and the fatigued muscles have their effect upon the spirit. It is at such times that she can prove the truth in the saying that change of labor, rest, relaxation will turn the tot that keeps her on her feet and go at something that will keep her seated for a while it is astonishing what difference it makes.

PASADENA. Office of The Times, No. 54 South Raymond Avenue, June 25.—Members of the Board of Education, believing in the old adage, "It takes a piano to prepare for war," are agreeing upon schemes for the accommodation of pupils in the public schools next fall. Last fall the schools were crowded and the congestion was more or less of an inconvenience throughout the school year. There has been time to time several events considered serious enough to call for a new high school, and the adding of partitions to some of the schools now existing.

The latest idea is even more comprehensive and heroic. The whole school district may be redistricted.

Several members of the board took a little juking trip Tuesday and Wednesday, visiting all the schools and finding out what is with a view to finding out what is the result of the investigation needed.

The result of the regular meeting next Tuesday. Some plumbings in the Grant school is needed, and the main assembly room may be cut up into two rooms to provide more class rooms. The Wilson school will probably be repainted during the summer.

The idea of redistricting the city is favored by some members of the board. Since the present school buildings are scattered throughout the town, some more thickly populated, in some places and others, so that some of the schools have more pupils in their neighborhood than they can accommodate, while, as is the case with the Washington school, there is more than ample accommodation. Should the idea meet with favor after further consideration a large new school house may be erected in the southeast part of the city, in which there is no school save the Grant, and the new one will be built on the site of the Grant, in a section which will make it convenient to some students attending school in other schools.

LAMANDA GROWERS HAPPY.

The results for the season have been highly satisfactory to the members of the Lamanda Orange and Lemon Growers' Association. The other day a carload of Sierra Madre Valencia sold for $1602 in Detroit, or $1194 f.o.b., fancy fruit selling on a basis of $4.60 per bushel.

The amount already paid to the growers are as follows: Navels, fancy, $1.36; choice, $1.15; standard, 85 cents; sweet, 75 cents; and 35 cents, respectively. Besides the oranges, the sum of 6 or 8 cents a box on all grades and varieties, to be distributed at the end of the season. Lamanda fruit is now recognized in the East, and the many special orders indicate that the prospects are bright for the association.

The commencement address was given by Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the State University, on "The Value of Contact in Education." His remarks were grouped under three heads, personality, conformity, balance, the essence of the Hindoo, Chinese and Greek thought. "We must unfold our personality to what God intended it," said Ide Wheeler. "If it is not, it must be life itself. The Great Educator came that ye might have life, and have it more abundantly. It cannot be an education of texts nor society nor manners. It must be personalities. The education that counts is the education of contact, facing truth. Learning must go warm from the teacher to receptive ears, and be a transference of life, sympathy, knowledge. Classes should smile, shun gloom. This is the old thought that the college would have to change either to a university or down to an academy; this is not the case, the college is here to do college work, and does it. Students should live in the college community, there they may come in contact with the faculty and college life. Californians want their sons and daughters to have the world, and the world is here in California. What we want are men and women who can be relied upon, who see clearly, and do same, healthful things, and have strong powers. The educational life is not the whole thing. Education makes manhood and womanhood, and no life is complete without religion."

The dean of the faculty, Prof. E. C. Norton, presented the graduating class to President Gates, who delivered the diplomas, conferring degrees as follows: Bachelor of arts, Charles A. Reed, president of "W" and a Case, A. Reed, president of "W" and a Case, "Tying it On," which was very good. The following was the cast for the farce: Walsingham Potts, Cass A. Reed; Mr. Jobstock, Paul Stanton; Mrs. Jobstock, Estelle C. Story; Fanny (her niece) Hattie M. Newell; Lucy (her maid), R. Pearl Ellis.

This afternoon the grammar school held its exercises and received diplomas.
